CITY COURT AT CON CON HEARING

Suspects Plot to Put It Out of Business.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Either the Municipal court has been a gigantic failure or there is a conspiracy to put it out of business," asserted Chief Justice Olson yesterday afternoon before the "Con Con" committee on courts. In the audience were more judges and lawyers than mble outside of a bar meetusually assemble outside of a bar meet-ing. Justice Olson was discussing the proposed court system of the Chicago and Illinois Bar associations.

The Chicago Municipal court is the largest court in the country," went on the judge. "The judgments rendered by it are more than in all the other are three times those of the Superior ence for thirteen years and it has been copied by twelve other leading cities. Yet it is not mentioned in the preamble of this proposal.

Court for Common People

"The leaders of the bar are inter ested in their clients and they are in terested in the state Supreme court But the court which dispenses justice to the people is the court at the bottom of the ladder. It settles thousands and thousands of cases which never get to the Supreme court. It deals with crime in which the leading lawyers are not interested.

"This proposal contemplates that the judges of the Municipal court shall be assistant judges of the consolidated court of the county. Where is the precedent for an assistant judge? Why niliate the judges of the Municipa court by having them carry books for other judges.

"The Municipal court has had some lame ducks. Frank J. Loesch attacked the court one time and said that he did so because of certain judges elected. Those judges have been trans ferred to other courts now.

TAILS YOU LOSE!

Mexican Elections Are Simple and Sure.

CARRANZA'S WAY

Following his description of conditions in Mexico, published yesterday, Philip Kinsley now tells why Mexican practice makes impossible an honest expression of the popular will through the use of the ballot box.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

On Board the Caloria, en route from Tampico to the United States, March 12.-For a Mexican election there is no registration, no secrecy of ballot, the voters march up to the municipal booths and give their names. Then they tell for whom they are going to vote and it is written down.

In a recent city election at Tampico the "Reds" were opposing the "Blues," the Carrangistas.

On the morning of the election, when a group of three "Reds" approached to vote in a suburban booth, they were comptly arrested and carted

This rather discouraged the other anti-administration forces, particular when the tactics were repeated. The result was a great government victory. The "Blues" won hands down.

Soldiers Control Elections. The soldiers in each district will conrol the elections.

Carranza has put his men in power in various states and has mollified the ousted candidates by giving them jobs in the capital. He has shown great ability as a leader and has held the delicate balance of power among his jealous generals with all the skill of an American politician. But the people? They are herding in squalor in the cities and along the railroads. Travel anywhere is a hazard. There is no assurance that the rain will not be held up or blown up. Government soldiers fore and aft, blockhouses with sentries, testify to the conditions.

Where Carranza Is Weak,

Back of the railroad zones, outside the federal district, Carranza's power is small. He is only one of many chieflid of secrecy still hermetically sealed tains. Washington, D. C., March 12.-More shipping was saved by keeping track of German submarines and routing vessels clear of them than by any other single measure, Rear Admiral Sims today told the senate investigating com pend upon keeping reasonably accurate track of all submarines at sea. We were certain we would never have to deal with more than one or two submarines at a time on our own coast."

Advance Information Accurate. Admiral Sims presented cablegrams cing the departure from Germany of the first raider for the American coast, sent more than three weeks before the vessels appeared in Ameri can waters. These messages, he said, were remarkable for the ascuracy with which every move of the enemy was foretold, and were founded on absolute information obtained by the British admiralty. They proved, he argued, the soundness of his recommendations, disregarded by the department, that all available forces should be concentrated in European waters.

BOTTOMLEY IN NEW ROLE BEGS AMERICAN AID

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, March 12.-The egregious Horatio Bottomley, who a few weeks ago wildly was denouncing America, climbs down in today's issue of his journal, John Bull. He denies he is an enemy of America and declares he is anxious that America and declares he is anxious that America join Great Britain in a mighty effort to set the old world on its feet again.

"To my mind it would be a profound disaster for the United States to forfeit a claim to a voice in world affairs. America is not our enemy; she is a potential friend. All honor to her of victory. Not a word ever will pass my lips in disparagement of their glorious sacrifice," and so on for over two pages in an abject appeal to America to help restore the fortunes of bankrupt Europe.

As usual, Bottomley overdoes the thing and makes his appeal ridiculous. It is evident he has been hauled over his outburst of a few weeks ago.

OUR OBLIGATION AS TO ARTICLE X

In his letter to Senator Hitchcock, setting forth his opposition to any proposed reservation to the Article X.

"If Article X. is not adopted and acted upon," will, I think, be guilty of bad faith to their people, whom they induced to make the infinite sacrifices of the war by the pledges that they would be fighting to redeem the world from the old order of force

The statement is typical of Mr. Wilson's polemic It creates out of Mr. Wilson's own inner self the premises from which he draws his emphatic and far reaching conclusions. The facts happen to be different in this case as in others which have marked his policy. But that consideration has never shaken Mr. Wilson's confidence in himself or his proposals. He works back from his object, which is the adoption of the covenant, inventing whatever premises seem necessary.

The paragraph we have quoted in effect asserts that the French and British and American soldiers were induced to fight, not because France was cause the German assault imperiled the British empire, or because the submarine campaign destroyed American lives, or because German plottings and the potentialities of German imperialism infringed American freedom and threatened our future peace, but because of "pledges that they would be fighting to redeem the world from the old order of force and aggression."

What would the pollu have said to that when he stood on the Marne in 1914, or the "Contemptibles" at Mons or the Yanks at Solssons? Of course, as the war wore on, a great deal of talk about war to end was indulged in, and was even encouraged by statesmen anxious to keen up morale at home. In front of the machine guns nen talked a different language. Those who nade the greatest sacrifices fought for country. Many of them hoped that when peace came it would usher in a wiser and better world, but they ought and died under their own colors for their victory." He has made up his mind that he must But Mr. Wilson is bent on another "diplomatic Without that his ambitious rôle of epoch maker will collapse like a bubble. To get his covenant he made any concession from his principles at Paris demanded by a great power. No wonder that now he to fighting to the last ditch.

But when he tries to bring moral pressure to bear upon us by a grotesque misstatement of the objects for which our allies or our own government and people went to war, we think he discloses the weakness of his case and will rouse the justifiable resentment of the public. We are in no sense pledged to adopt Mr. Wilson's formula. That is his affair, and it is the duty of the senate, as it is the interest of the nation, to consider it carefully and make such amendment of it or reservations from it as seem to us wise. Mr. Wilson's attempt to force it upon us by evolving an ex post facto moral re sponsibility is buncombe.

It is particularly unfitting for Curson to try to crawl out of the difficulty by turning reproach upon a country with which he personally has enjoyed profitable relations and which he has had peculiar opportunity to understand.

An Associated Press report from Washington of th relation to Armenia, says that Maj. Gen Harbord, head of the American mission which ex annined the question, recommended in his report THE PSYCHOLOGY OF THE DIPLOMATIC ROOM. the assumption of the Armenian mandate. It is known that this is not true. Gen. Harbord knows, as every informed person knows, that the mandate over Armenia should not be taken. Every American who knows what has been done and what is to be done to Turkish possessions knows that all the regions having resources have been taken or will be taken over by the European conquerors, and Armenia is left to bankruptcy be cause it is denied the possibility of development

A mandate which included the rich Turkish revinces, or enough of them, controlled from and might give the dependent peoples ordered and prosperous lives. Then there would be only the question of advisability of the United States undertaking such an international responsibility.

But the secretary's remark has an unconscious frony. The "best securities" might be driven writing a shade under 90. We have assumed that the obligations of the United States were the best securities. What has happened to degrade them?

We do not propose to go into Mr. McAdoo's financing-at this time. We think the fate of the Liberty bonds is discreditable to the government and to the nation and should be given careful consideration, without further evasion. We have no disposition to pre scribe remedies. That is a matter for expert consideration. But we do say most emphatically that the patriotism which was appealed to so confidently and successfully in the war emergency measures. They are Americans who say a great deal about our duty to humanity, and they consider that duty to humanity met when they insist that a people who might be happy be wretched. The condition of these people ought to be a direct charge upon the conscience of America. Realistically we ought to put Mexico in order because it ought to produce and contribute what a rich country can for the sustenance of the world. That does not imply grabbing the Mexican resources. It means developing them for the good of the Mexicans and everybody else.

Altruistically we ought to put Mexico in order for the sake of its own oppressed people.

MAKING OLIVES SAFE.

THE facts as to ripe olive poisoning are gradually becoming known. First, it is established that deaths have been caused during the last five months from eating ripe olives. When this charge was first made the olive growers denied the possibility. They had been packing ripe olives by the presresulted.

For a while the only product found to be poisonous was that of one firm. Why were other ripe olives harmless? Why were most of the output of this firm harmless? Why were ripe olives packed n tin harmless?

The answer seems to be that there are different types of bacillus botulinu ers. Last year the type difficult to kill by heat was more in evidence. The temproduct is heated is not high enough to kill some of the botulinus types-which is not the case with the product marketed

It has been found that heating to the colling temperature one hour a day for three days will not kill bacillus botulinus One theory is that the bacillus botulinu sometimes gets into the meat of the olive even down next the pit, and when it does, it is not easily killed by heat. Neglected Mail Service Needs Repairs!

Lost, Strayed or Stolen Postal Wage Commission Wanted

The Postal Service evidently is in distress. It is sorely in need of repairs. It has been neglected at the expense of those who support it—the Public. Its most offended victims are those whose interests are dependent upon the prompt transmission of the mails.

S. O. S. For Chicago Mail Service

An S. O. S. call in behalf of the Chicago Mail Service now is timely. It needs more help, more space and more consideration. An S. O. S. call from Chicago to Washington for these three sadly lacking assets should be made at once by the public, by the business world-in fact by anyone concerned in the prompt dispatch of the mails.

Intolerable Living and Working Conditions Make Chicago Postal Service Unattractive

Underpaid clerks are overworked in congested, ill-ventilated and insanitary premises. This deplorable state of affairs causes daily resignations. The inevitable result is a totally inadequate Mail Service. In short, to quote from an editorial in the Chicago Daily News on March 5th, "The conditions in the Post Office Department are such as would not be tolerated in any well conducted private business."

Postal Wage Commission Forgets That Life Is Short

A Joint Commission on Postal Salaries, authorized by the Congress on February 28th, 1919, seems to be lost, strayed or stolen. This Congressional Commission was created because ridiculously small wages caused a badly crippled mail service. It came, it investigated, and it reported not. Today, more than a year after this commission was authorized, nothing whatever has been done, and thus the inadequate pay of postal clerks (ironically termed "salaries") remains unchanged. Life is short. Therefore hope is entertained that the Wage Commission will not wait until the H. C. of L. takes a tumble ere it makes its long expected report.

A Miracle

A recommendation for living wages by the Post Office Department is considered a miracle. The only hope of the underpaid Post Office Clerk is the uncommunicative Wage Commission.

The Wolf at the Door

Today the average Post Office Clerk either must be in debt or fill two jobs. Either way he enjoys a positive state of misery. On account of the annual deliberate refusal to raise wages to a decent living standard, the wolf at the door compels the oft unbearable burden of debt or the enervating performance of additional work.

> Adequate Pay Only Will Assure Efficient Mail Service

Appeal to your Congressman and Senator for immediate legislation that will bring relief to the Postal Service and its employes by granting living wages. Living wages will bring an adequate force of clerks able to cope with the daily influx of mail.

If your mail is an agency from which you expect results of vital concern to your business, assure its prompt and accurate dispatch by aiding the clerks to obtain fair living and working conditions. Only the realization of such fair conditions will assure you the mail service you want.

TOU who have made jelly and and jam will more than appreciate Grapelade. It has that delicate flavor of fresh fruit—that home-made taste-yet it is smooth as velvet and acid crystals are removed by patented Welch process.

Grapelade just has to be good. Only selected choice grapes are used-with pure sugar. The seeds and skins are eliminated. It is real "honey of grapes."

And there is no end to the many tasty ways to use Grapelade. Serve it with griddle cakes as well as on bread, toast and muffins. Try it with salads. You can't beat it as a sauce for meats. You will like it in pastries and puddings. The whole family will vote for it and be sure to have the children on the jury.

THE MARBECK INN By HAROLD BRIGHOUSE

This new novel by the author of "Hobson's Choice" is a vividly realistic story of the rise— and some would say the fall—of an English workingman's son, told with much quiet humor and keen judgment of character. $1.75 net.

THE GREAT IMPERSONATION By E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

(Now in its SIXTH Large Printing)

"No more successful mystery story was ever written than 'The Great Impersonation.' It is indeed a triumph of construction and treatment that holds the attention of the reader from first to last."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

"Mr. Oppenheim, well established master of mystery, has, in 'The Great Impersonation,' outdone himself in his exploitation of the hitherto unsuspected."—The New York World.

"'The Great Impersonation' will be, and will deserve to be, one of the best sellers of the year."—The Boston Post.

"The Great Impersonation' is a thoroughly good story with an ingenious plot, and a series of exciting episodes that recall A. Conan Doyle of the days when he was writing about Sherlock Holmes."

—The New York Tribune.

"For ingenuity of plot and cleverness of treatment, it is a master-piece among contemporary mystery stories."—The Boston Herald.

Vet Weakens as the Train Pulls Out for Waco.

At three minutes to 6 o'clock last night Eddie Cicotte, star flinger of the White Sox, was a pronounced holdout. Three minutes later he made a hurried dash for the 6 o'clock Rock Island train, Texas bound, and today is speeding southward with his mates toward Waco, where the Gleason tribe will go into spring training Monday morning. Cicotte's sudden decision to climb aboard and iron out his grievances later was the only bit of excitement attendant upon the getaway of the American league champions. There was none of the hip-hip-hoo-ray stuff of other years. There were a few fans present to get a close-up glimpse of their favorites, but all they saw was a flock of strange recruits. The oldtimers for the most part were missing.

Cicotte Still Unsigned. Cicotte came here yesterday expecting to come to some sort of an agreement over the salary question. He found that neither Secretary Harry Grabiner nor Manager Kid Gleason was empowered to act in the absence of President Comiskey. Hence, he decided to go back to Detroit and take things easy until the club met his deds. It seems there is a difference of $2,500 between what the star hurler wants and what was offered in the con

The fact that Cicotte switched his plans just a few minutes before the train started indicated that he couldn't resist seeing his mates go away with-out him. A friend advised him as to what was the best thing to do. He agreed, dashed to the checkroom for his handbag, and then to the train. To Talk with Comiskey.

Cicotte intends to take up training work just as though everything was O. K. President Comiskey is due in Waco from California in about a week and the pitcher then will place his has enough dough to keep him comfortably without playing ball and this, along with the fact that he is about the most important cog in the Sox ma-chine, probably will help him in get-

Capt. Alan Blackmer's five baskets led his team's scoring in the second half, after the first half ended in an 11 to 11 tie. Oak Park spurted to an 3 point advantage in the opening minutes of the third quarter, Blackmer making three baskets and Hoff a long shot from midfioor.

Oak Park lightweights swept from behind in the fourth quarter to win the curtain raiser from Deerfield, 13 to 9. Deerfield led, 6 to 5, at the half, wilde put a straight right to the jaw and left to body, followed by a left to Mason's face and right to stomach. Mason landed right early sessions Wilde apright cross and left hook. Wilde covered up when Mason shot a hard left to bead. Mason jabbed four hard lefts to the jaw without a return.

ROUND SIX.

Wilde landed a straight left and they indulged in long range boxing. Mason scored a risht to body. They stood toe to toe and slugged, Wilde forcing Mason to break ground. Wilde sent Mason to the ropes with a shower of lefts. Mason landed a straight left to the face. Wilde put over a hard left hook to stomach and crossed with his right, driving Mason backwards. This last blow was the hardest of the fight up to this stage.

New York, March 12.-[Special.]-The stock market ran into extensive selling today after quotations of indusfirm tone during the initial hour of When the forward movement was in

than the others, oil stocks being influenced by emphasis laid in the last few days upon the shortage of crude material, and a consequent stiffening in 150 prices of refined products. Two major influences were evident in the reaction of the afternoon, which left net declines of 2 to more than 3 points among the active shares, excepting few specialties. Chief of these spirited upbidding of call money from 7 to 15 per cent; the other was the desire of traders with good sized profits to make sure of them in advance of the Balk at 7 Per Cent. It would be easy to lay too much stress upon the rise of call loan rates, however. The bulk of the day's borrowing was at 7 per cent, a level at which the market been fairly well stabilized during the week, and whether the total of tax payments to the government next week payments to the government next week reach many hundreds of thousands of Acme Coal dollars or are less than estimates, the Amer Razor 2,800 funds will be distributed among the Br Am Tob cpn 5,000 banks, and will shortly be available, in
